The co-located India Cold Chain Show provided an additional opportunity to explore innovations in perishable goods storage and transportation.

This visit bridged the gap between theoretical knowledge and industry practices by exposing students to real-world supply chain challenges, professional methodologies, and career prospects in logistics and warehousing. Overall, it was a valuable learning experience that prepared the students for future challenges in the field.

Descriptive Report on Logistics & Supply Chain and Cold Storage Management

The India Warehousing & Logistics Show 2024, held from 21st to 23rd November 2024 at the Bombay Exhibition Centre, Goregaon (E), Mumbai, is a premier platform showcasing advancements in warehousing, logistics, automation, and supply chain technologies. A group of 15 students, accompanied by one faculty member, visited this event on 22nd November 2024 to gain practical insights into the latest industry trends and innovations. The visit aims to expose students to cutting-edge technologies such as automation and robotics in logistics, while also providing them with opportunities to interact with industry leaders, observe live product demonstrations, and understand the practical applications of supply chain management concepts.

Key highlights of the event include over 150 exhibitors presenting more than 1,000 solutions, exclusive product launches, and B2B networking opportunities through platforms like "Go Connect." Additionally, the students explored opportunity in the co-located India Cold Chain Show, which focuses on redefining technologies for the storage and transportation of perishable goods. This visit helped students to understand real-world supply chain challenges, observe professional practices, and discover career opportunities in the logistics and warehousing sectors. This hands-on learning experience partially filled the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application, ensuring the students are well-prepared for future challenges in the field.
